BACKGROUND

When Bao and Neng Xiong arrived in Wausau from Laos in 1991, they were not formally educated and spoke little English, but they were determined to build a good life in their new home for their family. To help support her family and acclimate herself in her new homeland, Bao attended language classes, earned her GED, became a licensed childcare provider, and dedicated herself to helping new refugees as they arrived in Wausau. Now, in addition to running an in-home daycare and raising six children, Bao teaches cultural dance and provides free tax preparation and interpretation services to Hmong families.

Neng and Bao Xiong

Bao and Neng find their strength in these words from Psalms 117:2, "For his merciful kindness is great toward us: and the truth of the Lord endures forever. Praise ye the Lord."

Because of the extraordinary conscience, care, and character Bao demonstrated in her work on behalf of thousands of Hmong refugee women in Wausau, she was chosen as one of the top three finalists from over 2,000 nominations for the Volvo for Life Award – a nationwide search for everyday heroes. The award is designed to put Volvo's values into action by inspiring people who make outstanding contributions to their communities. The distinguished panel of judges included Hank Aaron, Bill Bradley, Dr. Jane Goodall, Caroline Kennedy Schlossberg, Eunice Kennedy Shriver, Maya Lin, Paul Newman, and Dr. Sally Ride. Bao & Neng Xiong established a donor advised fund within the Community Foundation of North Central Wisconsin in June of 2003 with the proceeds from the award.
