

MARVIN C. SCHUETTE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

FUND BACKSTORY . . .

The Wausau Homes' story began with three entrepreneurial brothers Earl, Cliff, and Marv Schuette who began their business endeavor with a dairy route in rural Marathon County Wisconsin. The Schuette Brothers used profits from that modest milk route to purchase a sawmill, where raw timbers were processed into framing lumber.

After the war, the brothers developed that sawmill into a one stop building center, where contractors could purchase all of their materials for home construction from one source. With all the elements for home construction in place at their building center, the brothers devised a revolutionary concept in home building that is recognized as one of the best in the industry. This pioneering concept became Wausau Homes. It is this foundation of hard work, innovation and the entrepreneurial spirit lived by the founding Schuette brothers that remain the grounding principles of Wausau Homes.

Marv Schuette believed in the importance of education. He had a strong desire to see people succeed, whether they were Wausau Homes' builders, employees, vendors or someone he chanced to meet.

This scholarship fund was established in 2007 by his wife, Rudie, to perpetuate his legacy within the company and the community
